Two years ago last harvest myself and brother bought a new Buckeye combined, and this year, with that machine as good as new, I was necessarily compelled or considered it economy, to hire a Champion to cut my wheat, or at all events, a baiance of thirty acres, the Buckeye having cut or partially cut eighty acres, in which I evidentally lost wheat enough to half pay for a new Champion. The wheat was baddy down where the Buckeye failed and the Champion succeeded. If I snould buy another machine it will certainly be a Champion.

I firmly believe it runs as light, as a self raker, as the Buckeye does as a dropper. In fact, gentlemen, it is the only machine I ever had that just fills the bill in every particular I have used the Buckeye, Jr., and others, but it gets away with them all, either as a self-raker or single mower. CARROLL & HOGE'S, Main-st., St. Clairsville, Ohio.

-00000000-The CLEVELAND CHEMICAL PAINT is composed of Pure Lead, Zinc and Linseed Oil, most desirable ingredients of a really good paint. These are chemically combined so that the oil cannot leave the lead and go into the wood, as it does in the old way, and leave it dry, peel and wash off in a few years, but hardens with the lead and zinc on the surface, adhering firmly to it, making a FIRM, ELASTIC, WATER-PROOF COAT that will remain unclassing for warry. changed for years! Its cost is less than pure lead and oil (mixed in old way), which is unmixed and not ready for use—whereas the CLEVELAND CHEMICAL PAIST is ready for use, and will cover more surface than any other paint. It is easily and rapidly applied by any one, and a saving of one-third in time and labor is made in its use. These make it as a matter of economy, most certainly for the interest of all intending to paint, to use it.

Rotary - Hook Lock-Stitch SEWING MACHINE, No. 6,

LEATHER WORK

After twenty years of successfully manufacturing and selling the well-known and wellried WHEELER & WILSON FAMILY SEW-ING MACHINE, we now introduce to the larly to the manufacture of Heavey Clothing oots and Shoes, Harness, Carriage Trimmings, etc., etc., either by steam or foot power, We have spared neither expense nor study to produce a machine which shall be in all re-spects precisely what is wanted, or in other words, 'equal to the emergency.'

ist A higher rate of speed without increas 2d Simplicity of construction. While the attainment of the 2d and 3d qualities is comparatively easy, that of the 1st in connection with the others is far more difficult. To secure this, as we have successfully done our machine running at the rate of 1,200 stitches, per minute, we necessarily avoided the shuttle principle and the osciliating motion pertaining thereto, and adhered strictly to our old established rotary motion.

In studying what is necessary to constitute the best Manufacturing Sewing Machine, we find the requisite quanlities to beto our old established rotary motion.

The reason is obvious. The continuous rotary motion, has none of the stopping and starting, and consequent shocks of the shuttle machine. The latter by constant striking and pounding on the shuttle twice at every stitch, soon wears out, while the wear of the rotary motion, being true and smooth, is very slight.

This rotary hook has other advantages besides its canability of running at a high rate of speed. Turning with a peculiar variable motion, alternately accelerated and retarded, its point, which is alow motion, a sufficient distance to avoid all danger of skipping, then immediatly increases its speed until the commencement of the drawing up the stitch, when its motion is retarded to conform and to again enter the loop. By this peculiar motion, a lock-stitch, firm and strong is completed at each revolution of the hook.

The independent take up, an ingenious though

The independent take up, an ingenious though simple device, is far in advance of those used on other machines. It draws up the stitch at precisely the right time, viz: when the neadle is entirely out of the goods, thereby sustaining a stronger tension, and prevening the chafing of the silk or thread by the material sewed. The self-oiling bars of the needle and pres-sure-foot—the case of management—the regis-tering length of stitch and the case and quiet-ness of running, will commend themselves to all manufacturers and operators.

This Machine, designed especially for heavy work combines with all the excellent qualifies of WHESLER & WILSON'S FAMILY MACHINE, many novel features of great importance which render it as superior for manufacturing purposes as is the Family Machine for the household.

Each machine is supplied with the necessary attachments and appliances for any branch of A2-Al; are invited to call at our Sale-room

ENVELOPES, LETTER-HEADS, Furnished at this Office.

By power it will sew 50 per cent, faster than any shuttle machine, and many fold the durability. It is for the interest of manufacturers of heavy Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Harness, Carriage Trimmings, etc., to thoroughly less its merits.
